Become part of the worldwide IEEE community that is more than 425,000 strong and that for over 125 years has shaped the world's technological future. IEEE offers a range of programs and a worldwide support network to help turn your aspirations into achievements.

WHATEVER YOUR GOAL OF MEMBERSHIP, IEEE OFFERS OPPORTUNITIES TO:

- Build and share your knowledge.
- Hone your expertise in your profession.
- Expand or specialize your network of colleagues.
- Advance your career.
- Give back to the profession and your community.

Stay current with publications, journals, conference papers and eBooks. Connect with a working community of colleagues in your field through one of 38 IEEE Societies. Capitalize on the many personal- and career-related discounts available.

IEEE is a global organization with members in over 160 countries. Connecting and collaborating with peers across the world is an important benefit of your professional membership. Take advantage of exclusive opportunities to make connections that will advance your career.

IEEE itself is a very open community. You can freely migrate from one specialty to another during a research career and no one puts obstacles in your way.

YOUR PERSONALIZED MEMBER EXPERIENCE

myIEEE is your personal, customizable, Web portal where you can access your membership features and services in real time. Adapt myIEEE and the resources displayed as your membership needs change.

CONTROL YOUR MEMBER EXPERIENCE WITH MYIEEE

- Make member connections that matter
Use IEEE memberNet, your search-and-contact tool, to network and interact with the IEEE community of advisors and experts in your field and those who share your passions.
- Your personal information-delivery service
Customize myIEEE to set up RSS feeds from IEEE and other sources, learn about local events, and identify the desired IEEE career and education resources available through your membership.

- Watch TV your way Never miss an IEEE.tv program with the myTv section of the IEEE.tv viewer. The IEEE.tv module also features new and most viewed programs so you can stay on top of the latest and greatest special-interest programming.

Looking across my eventful career, I can say that communication and collaboration were cornerstones of my success. As a member of IEEE, I find it is an invaluable source of information and conduit for discussion.

– Dr. Lawrence Roberts
Founder and Current Chairman of Anagram, Inc.

THE FIRST STEP TO THE REST OF YOUR CAREER

Undergraduate and graduate students make up more than one-fourth of IEEE members, and represent the future of IEEE. IEEE student membership offers the same benefits as professional members along with exclusive opportunities to help build and shape careers.

GLOBAL PROFESSIONAL OPPORTUNITIES BEGINNING AT THE CAMPUS LEVEL

- IEEE Student Branch All student members are encouraged to become part of their branch where they can take part in exciting technical competitions, hear expert speakers, receive professional instruction, and make friends and colleagues for life.
- IEEE competitions The IEEEExtreme 24-Hour Programming Challenge, IEEE Presidents' Change the World Competition, and IEEE Robotics and Design Competition challenge student skills, recognize and reward outstanding achievements.

- Eta Kappa Nu (HKN) Being nominated and accepted to the official honor society of IEEE can amplify a young professional's career.
- Student Professional Awareness Conference (S-PAC) Launched by individual IEEE Student Branches, these events feature successful engineers who speak to students on topics related to technical careers.
- Additional benefits Student can vie for scholarships and grants, compete in awards programs, and receive special offers from IEEE partners.

IEEE is a key part in the development of my academic and corporate careers. Participating in IEEE has developed me as a well-rounded engineer and helped me shine during networking events.
