No Two Faces Are Ever Alike

of the U.S. population wears glasses.

Americans spend more than $15 billion each year on eyewear.

When it comes to apparel, there's petite, plus size, slim, big and tall... a fit for every body type. Shouldn't eyewear be available in a fit for every face? Research shows that a significantly high population would benefit from specially fitting eyewear – whether larger, smaller, or adjustable – to better fit their particular facial features.

Defining America: The most culturally diverse country in the world

- When it comes to style, many Hispanic adults aim to stand out and be original.
- ★ African-Americans are consumer trendsetters. Compared to Hispanic and Asian-American markets, which are concentrated in a handful of states, the African-American market is more widespread and makes it an attractive customer segment.
- The Asian-American consumer market is diverse in national ancestries, languages, and cultures, creating rewarding niche markets for business.

globalfit

Adjustable Fit Eyewear Designed for Today's World.

Designed to appeal to a variety of ethnicities, the Global Fit collection offers an adjustable fit for those with a narrow or lower nose bridge and flatter facial structure. This highly-adjustable, fashion-forward collection is the answer for hard-to-fit patients who desire today's styles, in a "customized" fit for their features.

Many of today's fashionable designs are constructed of acetate materials, most of which cannot be adjusted to fit every face. Each Global Fit frame provides nose pads with adjustable arms, helping to keep the eyewear from slipping while retaining the correct alignment. A flatter base curve and longer, bowed temples provide a more comfortable, secure fit that won't slip, keeping frames in optimum alignment.

BCBGMAXAZRIA

Marc Ecko Cut & Sew

Each Global Fit frame features:

- Gooseneck nose pad arms that adjust two ways
- Bowed temples and flatter face form for a comfortable, secure fit
- 5° pantoscopic angle to provide maximum comfort for the patient who requires less frame tilt
- Nose pads for less slipping
- A beautiful color palette in flattering shades for every complexion
- Modern, angular eye shapes
- Minimalist to bold, decorative accents to meet different style preferences

The variety of ethnicities in the U.S. has created a unique culture that is unlike anywhere in the world

petitefit

Smaller frames deliver big returns.

The thing about eyewear: if it's too big, you can't have it altered.

So we've perfected our Petite Fit collection of fresh, fashion forward designs so your petite-featured customers will always look and feel their best in their eyewear. It's not a collection of "sized-down" or "extra small" versions of our popular styles; Petite Fit eyewear and suns are designed based on the overall proportion of a woman's face.

From ultra glam, soft and sophisticated, to classic, wearable style, Petite Fit eyewear offers a fashionable frame that fits just right. No alterations required.

Innovative by design. Crafted with love.

Driven by the needs of our littlest customers, their parents, and eye care professionals, the Dilli Dalli eyewear collection represents ClearVision's dedication to the pediatric eyewear market.

We're aware of the challenges faced by parents who must purchase new glasses for their infant or toddler as often as every 6 months. So we wanted to help make it a positive experience. Our team of product developers pooled its years of experience and knowledge in pediatric eyewear design to create a dependable, affordable collection that parents can feel good about, and Dilli Dalli is our gift. This commitment is what sets Dilli Dalli eyewear apart from other collections.

Months of extensive research showed us what parents really want when it comes to their child's eyewear: a durable frame that's comfortable for their little ones. Therefore, we put particular emphasis on fit when developing each Dilli Dalli model. Our designs address proper, precise fit in terms of the nose pads, end pieces, bridge, temple curve and temple lengths.

Dilli Dalli

Each Dilli Dalli frame features:

- Bridge and nose pads placed lower so eyes are better centered
- European-made nose pads contain anti-corrosive inserts
- Nose pads constructed of medical-grade, hypoallergenic PVC material
- Slightly bowed temples to fit the natural curve of smaller heads
- European adjustable cable tips standard for each model
- Skull temples available in multiple sizes
- European safety rim-lock screws for added security
- Acetate model (Half Pint) designed for pre-walkers
- Silicone unifix bridge on Munchkin (metal) provides a comfortable fit
- Constructed with FDA-approved materials
- Meets CPSIA standards for lead and phthalates
