Single system to simplify payroll and increase accuracy

Most organizations maintain separate systems for payroll and time. This forces you to work with your payroll data only at the end of a pay period once time data is signed off. This creates the 'payroll crunch' where admins have a short time to update, correct, and verify all payroll data before they commit. Restricting previews, adjustments, and audits to the end of the pay cycle can lead to extended work hours, unnecessary stress, and mistakes in your payroll.
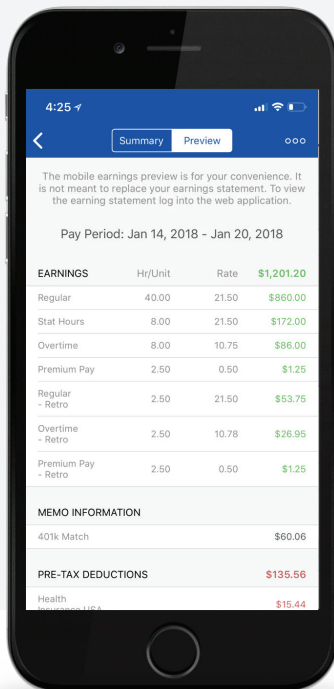

Dayforce replaces disparate software systems with real-time cloud software that combines payroll, time, and HR data into a single system. With this single application, payroll data is always up-to-date and can be previewed or audited any time during the payroll cycle to easily verify data or make adjustments. This eliminates the 'payroll crunch' and gives you the time you need to ensure payroll is delivered on-time and accurately.

Mobile earnings preview

Employees are provided with access to mobile previews of earnings statements on-the-go in a user-friendly mobile interface. Employees gain increased visibility into the breakdown of their earnings any time, from anywhere.

Continuous calculations

Display net pay and perform adjustments at any time during the pay period to view the impact of changes in real-time, and enable accurate results.
