

STUDY ABROAD

Join Our Community

For more than 40 years, ISEP has partnered with universities and colleges around the world for solutions to help them reach their internationalization goals. In this time, we have grown from an exchange network into the largest global community for study, intern and volunteer abroad programs.

Our 300+ member institutions across more than 50 countries trust us with their students because of our unmatched access to high-quality academic opportunities, authentic local experiences and our commitment to exceptional program support and affordability.

With ISEP, you will enjoy an efficient, cost-effective way to provide your students with outstanding program choices, and you will join a community dedicated to helping students overcome financial and academic barriers to study abroad.

“ISEP is a key partner for advancing comprehensive internationalization. Its affordable cost structure and vast network of member institutions make quality study abroad experiences accessible to a broad range of students.”

- David Di Maria, Ph.D.,
Associate Vice Provost for International Education
for the University of Maryland, Baltimore County

ISEP Membership

An ISEP membership provides access to our entire portfolio of Exchange and Direct programs throughout our network. With ISEP Exchange, for every student sent abroad, your institution receives one in return. Inbound students can be from any ISEP member institution. ISEP member institutions can also access all of our ISEP Direct fee-paying programs in more than 40 countries.

ISEP Affiliation

ISEP Affiliation is available for universities who would like to send students on ISEP's study abroad programs on a direct enrollment basis. Students at ISEP Affiliate institutions have access to summer, semester and full-year study abroad programs as well as full-time internships and volunteer programs in more than 40 countries.
