Digitalization, Internet of Things and Artificial Intelligence hold the potential to improve citizens' daily lives and to create new business opportunities. Through this Joint Action we will provide co-creation methods and tools that can help companies navigate this immense potential and put responsible innovation into practice

- Purpose: Provide guidance and tools to those wishing to engage in co-creation and responsible innovation processes.
- Starting point: A selection of resources included in the RRI Tools platform
- Target Groups: Companies and practitioners interested in embedding responsible approaches in their innovation processes.
- Outcomes: A series of webinars to learn about the latest tools and methods.
- Impacts: Inspiration and greater knowledge of responsible innovation tools and methods.
