

JAGGAER Rapid Response for Cash Preservation

AN EXCLUSIVE, TIME-LIMITED OFFER TO DRIVE IMMEDIATE SPEND DECISIONS

The onset of a global pandemic and the resulting market conditions have forced businesses to evaluate cash flow. Preserving cash and cutting future spend are top priorities, but with disparate systems and processes, procurement activity can be obscured making these actions difficult.

JAGGAER Spend Analytics helps your organization make these decisions with the necessary information and insight.

View your spend data presented in our best practices dashboard of standard reports to see insights into spend across your organization. Variables, trends, and coverage reports give you the summary levels you need with the ability to drill into line level data to make smart decisions.

JAGGAER RAPID RESPONSE SERVICES

In addition, the JAGGAER professional services team will provide a Rapid Response implementation to aggregate, cleanse, and load your data as well as training for your team to start using the JAGGAER Spend Analytics solution without the usual cost and commitment of a typical software implementation.

The implementation services include:

- Collecting and preparing your data for upload
- Categorizing your data to your taxonomy or an industry best practice taxonomy
- Normalizing your suppliers
- Training for your team
- Refreshing your data for timely analysis
- Support and continuing education

FREE OF CHARGE FOR 90 DAYS

With this Rapid Response program, we will provide you with access to Spend Analytics free of charge for 90 days to help you target cuts and identify leakage with accurate visibility into real time spending. The Rapid Response implementation services will be provided with deferred payment terms to help you retain cash and reap the value of this service before any payment is due. If you wish to continue using JAGGAER Spend Analytics after the program ends, you may choose to continue with a standard Spend Analytics subscription.

VIEW THE PAST, MANAGE THE PRESENT

The Rapid Response program will result in a solution that provides a real-time view into current spending. The solution features pre-configured analytics to identify savings and negotiation opportunities across goods and services; knowledge driven auto-classification to your category tree; and easy to navigate, actionable analytics. These features enable you to determine appropriate actions based on our current volatile market conditions. Out-of-the-box reports on multiple dimensions including supplier aggregation, category summaries, spend variance and trends will support your team in making critical business decisions.
