About Jayhawk Semester

Jayhawk Semester is a tailored academic program for international students to study for a semester or year at the University of Kansas. As part of Jayhawk Semester, students enroll in academic courses in their fields of interest. Integrated intensive English language training is also available to help students with specific language learning objectives.

Our goal is a simple one: to ensure that every Jayhawk Semester participant receives a world-class academic experience and a rich immersive cultural and social experience. In addition to having personalized academic advising, students enjoy regularly organized cultural activities designed to acquaint them better with KU, Lawrence, Kansas and the United States.

From application, admission, arrival, and orientation, all the way through to program completion, the Jayhawk Semester coordinator is ready to partner with your university to ensure your students have a successful academic experience in the United States.
