TRAINING SERIES

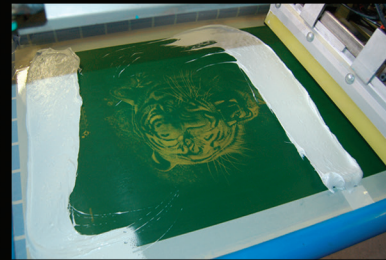

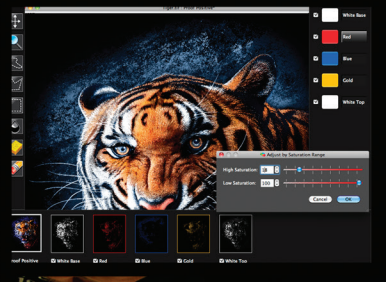

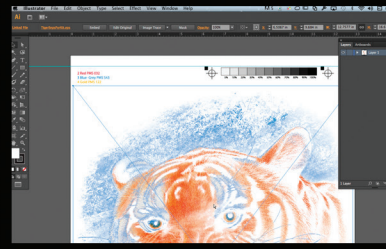

MISSION 1: KILLER BLACK SHIRTS

Two veterans of the artwork and screen print world have joined forces to bring you all the ammunition you need to join the elite squad of Killer Black Shirt printers. Dane Clement, president of Great Dane Graphics, and Lon Winters, owner of Graphic Elephants, have compiled their years of knowledge and are offering you this mission so that you too can be armed with the information to create killer black shirts.

Should you accept this mission, you will be equipped with:

- Full-color instructional book filled with images, photos, general information, as well as step by step lessons from the beginning stages of creating artwork all the way through the screen printing process.
- Two disks loaded with tutorial movies on all the stages of the artwork and screen printing process. Creating production-ready artwork, screen making, setting up the press, inks, meshes... it's all there and more.
- Sample black t-shirt with the awesome full-color Tiger Imprint, five color vector logo, one strike white print, and soft tag print.
- 5 Film Positives for you to practice printing your own Tiger shirts using the information you'll learn.

Arm yourself with the best, and be prepared to blow your customers' minds with awesome designs and prints to win battles against your competition.
