OSAKA

Osaka is the third largest city and an economic hub of Japan. Osaka has companies ranging from internationally renowned large corporations such as Panasonic to SMEs with innovative businesses and technology platforms working in sports, video games technology and green energy. Osaka is Tokyo's less expensive and conservative foil rooted in its prosperity as an arts, theatre and cultural hub at one time.

Osaka is often referred to as the "Nation's Kitchen" so food is a big part of the Osaka experience, with fugu featuring as a quintessential winter dish.

The metro area of Osaka has over 19.3 million people.
