SHENZHEN

Shenzhen is a major city in the south of China and sits just north of Hong Kong. It is home to the Shenzhen Stock Exchange and is the headquarters of numerous high-tech and finance companies from around the world. Referred to as the "Silicon Valley" of China, Shenzhen's rapid growth in the Technology sector has made it the top real estate market in China and a hub of entrepreneurship and innovation.

CRCC Asia

Shenzhen began as a small fishing village in 1979 and is now considered the 'Silicon Valley of China'.

Shenzhen is a Special Economic Zone resulting in a vibrant economy and rapidly growing foreign investment.
