Whether you are sending 100 or 1,000 students on study abroad experiences, Via TRM's simple, easy to use system will help you reach more students, streamline the process and save time.

We serve one person offices as well as large organizations ready to invest in technology that makes sense for today's students, faculty, and staff.

What does Via TRM do?

It is simple. With Via TRM, international educators:

Reach more students.

Don't wait until they are ready to apply to connect; capture student data online, at events, and through invitation the moment they are interested in studying abroad. Message individual or groups of students at every point in their journey.

Streamline the application process.

Build custom programs and applications in minutes. Via TRM is intuitive; students guide themselves through one-of-a-kind program matching and easily-understood applications.

Save time.

Our simple solution for managing education abroad means you will have more time to do what you love: advise students and grow global connections.
